

A reliable repair equals a happy customer

You promise your customers a quality repair so you need a bearing that lasts. You've tried cheaper options but you were faced with more warranty repairs and unhappy customers. Don't risk your reputation on a less reliable product. Choose Myonic bearings, the German-engineered, OEM-quality bearing that is the industry's standard of reliability.

Why are Myonic bearings so reliable?

It begins with Myonic's know how. Myonic is the preferred manufacturer of dental handpiece bearings of nearly every major OEM in the world today, so they understand the unique requirements of this application. Reliability is sustained by the use of the highest quality materials, high precision manufacturing, and above industry-standard quality.

In the end, results are what matter most—Myonic has earned its reputation by providing solutions that perform reliably in the field.

Quality Dental Services is your One Stop Shop for all of your dental handpiece needs

Myonic values Quality Dental Services Corp. for its excellent reputation as a dependable wholesale dental handpiece bearings and parts distributor.

For over 35 years, Quality Dental Services has distinguished itself in the marketplace by offering high quality products, excellent service, and low prices. Furthermore, QDSC has been an authorized national bearing distributor for NHBB dental bearings since 1994 and Myonic bearings since 2006.

Such longstanding relationships with the industry's leading brands is living proof of Quality Dental Service's commitment to quality, dependability and value.

Keep your customers happy! Contact Quality Dental Services today and order a supply of Myonic replacement bearings.

myonic.com

(800) 543-4408
qualitydentalservices.com